Week of November 16th Setup

In this week's Chart of the Week, we take a look at Strategy ($MSTR), which is sitting right on a major $115.55 monthly support/pivot after another sharp pullback. The larger structure is starting to resemble a multi-month base, and if this level continues to hold, MSTR could begin another rotation higher. A sustained reclaim from here would put the 160–180 zone back in play first, with $241.83 as the larger upside target. Sitting in a massive inverse H&S as well.

$MSTR is still the highest-beta public-market proxy for Bitcoin. Strategy now holds 850,364 BTC, about 4.05% of total Bitcoin supply, and has continued adding to that position even through recent weakness.
