Week of September 8th Setup

In this week's Chart of the Week, we take a look at CoreWeave ($CRWV), which is trying to build a potential inverse head-and-shoulders pattern after holding the key $76.63 support zone. The major breakout level is $102.42 a clean move above that area would strengthen the bullish reversal setup and could open the door toward the first target at $138.16, followed by $186.41. As long as $76.63 continues to hold, the broader bullish structure remains intact. $CRWV is one of the purest public-market plays on exploding AI compute demand. CoreWeave's Q2 revenue reached $2.58B, while revenue backlog climbed to roughly $104B, with another $25B+ of new customer commitments added early in Q3 from customers across AI labs, hyperscalers and enterprises.
