Week of August 10th Setup

In this week's Chart of the Week, we take a look at Strategy ($MSTR), which appears to be breaking out of a multi-week accumulation range after holding the key $95.42 support level. The move is being backed by the strongest volume in months, which adds conviction to the breakout. As long as $95.42 continues to hold, we believe $MSTR could push toward the first target at $115.04, followed by $131.11, with a larger breakout potentially opening the door toward the $160 area.

$MSTR remains the highest-beta public-market proxy for Bitcoin, with Strategy still holding more than 842,000 BTC even after its recent small sale. .
